

A wooden home that's friendly and confident

 SARAH TOLLE 15 December, 2016

This wooden home built by the architects from In_Design Architektur strikes a perfect balance between approachable and authoritarian – it's a unique design that's friendly and welcoming, as well as regal and commanding. This two-story home is solid wood and absolutely full of high-quality furnishings – it's time for a tour of this friendly family home!

First Impression

SAVE

 IN_DESIGN ARCHITEKTUR

The yard is impressive in and of itself, and this house knows it. The home as been situated on a corner of the lot, allowing the lawn to extend generously in front of it. The structure is horseshoe shaped, hugging a central patio. This design ensures that the patio space remains protected from wind, creating a hassle-free location for picnics in the summer.

SAVE

style – cooking, dining, and spending playtime together are the hallmarks of this design. The wooden patio not only soaks up the sun, but also enjoys a friendly dialogue with the rough large windows, and with the second floor balcony above.

Kid's room

SAVE

IN_DESIGN ARCHITEKTUR

With a strong focus on family life, this design includes a prominent children's room, which enjoys the prime location inside of this wooden extension. Sunlit, lofty, and upbeat, this children's area is sure to cultivate a sense energy and playfulness.

Kitchen

SAVE

IN_DESIGN ARCHITEKTUR

This kitchen is the definition of streamlined! The design is simple, modern, and sleek, with special attention given to floorspace, counter space, and ease of movement around the island, to and from the dining room, and to the picnic patio as well (accessible through sliding glass doors).

SAVE

IN_DESIGN ARCHITEKTUR

The living room and dining room enjoy a seamless connection, with a warm wood-burning stove giving off heat to both halves of the space. In a design like this, the open layout encourages participation and communication, as it's easy to see and hear what's going on throughout the open concept main floor.

Busy bathroom

SAVE

IN_DESIGN ARCHITEKTUR

Natural decor

SAVE

IN_DESIGN ARCHITEKTUR